

◆ 2015 LENNOX VINEYARD
Pinot Noir | Russian River Valley

Our second release of wine from our near and dear friends over in Western Sebastopol.; Alison Hanna and her father John work hard to farm their little 2 acre property impeccably, so it's the least we could do to try to produce a wine worthy of their efforts.

As was the norm up and down the coast this year, there just wasn't much fruit... and when we say "not much" we mean there was practically none, but what there was showed a level of concentration that won't be found for many a vintage to come.

There's a vivid, unmistakable, candied red fruit streak that defines the aromas right out of the bottle. Showing a vivid and very nice level of minerality balancing out the sweet black cherries and cola flavors. On the finish, there's a bit of tar and baking spice coupled with a nice floral element that makes this a both a very powerful wine, but also a very elegant wine.

This wine reminds us of some of our fantastic pinots of yesteryear, think 2005 Dutton mixed with a hint of Widdoes.
